 - b. Email: privacy@pragroup.co.uk
 - c. Tel: 0808 196 5541
3. Purpose of processing personal data and legal basis:
 - a. Note that your personal data will be processed by us for the purposes of: communication, collection of outstanding debt, trace activities, payment processing, customer support, complaints handling, customer satisfaction monitoring, risk assessments, due diligence and audits, compliance with contract terms, analysis, market research, production of reports and management information, behavioural scoring, prevention or detection of crime, defence of claims, evaluation of portfolios of debt, optimisation and improvement of our debt collection processes, training and quality assurance of staff, evaluation of your circumstances to provide you with solutions, evaluation, facilitation and administration of remediation actions in respect of your outstanding debt either by PRA or any party from whom PRA has acquired an outstanding debt, administrative and other debt collection purposes. We may also use your personal data to maintain and update records to ensure accuracy of processing, to comply with legal and regulatory obligations to make information returns to regulators and legally constituted-bodies and to resolve disputes with us.
 - b. Our legal basis for processing your personal data is:
 - i. Pursuant to article 6 (1) (b) of the UK GDPR we will process your personal data when it is necessary for the fulfilment of obligations under the credit agreement entered into by you with the original creditor, which obligations are now legally owed to PRA, including the obligation to make payment, and/or
 - ii. Pursuant to article 6(1) (d) of the UK GDPR we will process your personal data when that processing is required or permitted by law including but not limited to the Financial Conduct Authority’s (“FCA”) Consumer Credit Sourcebook.
 - iii. Pursuant to article 6 (1) (f) of the UK GDPR we will process your personal data when it is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interest of PRA. We have a legitimate interest in collecting the debt owed by you to PRA, and to process your personal data for that purpose.

4. Categories of personal data

We will process the following categories of personal data:

- a. information relating to your identity (e.g. first name, maiden name, last name, username or similar identifier, title, date of birth)
- b. information in order for us to be able to communicate with you (e.g. billing address, email address and telephone numbers),
- c. information relating to your debt and payments (e.g. bank account and payment card details)
- d. information about your financial circumstances (e.g. details about payments you have made to us),
- e. information about your personal circumstances (e.g. marital status, dependants, employment and income), which, in each case, are provided by you or a third party authorised by you, other information relevant to your circumstances which impact your ability to pay your debt.

We may communicate with you by mail, e-mail, web chat, telephone and by SMS. Should we contact you by telephone or other form of electronic communication, or should you contact us by telephone or other form of electronic communication, we may monitor and/or record the telephone conversation or other electronic communication in the interests of security, to improve our services, for training purposes, and to assist in collection of any outstanding debt.

5. Special categories of personal data:

- a. Our legal basis for processing special categories of personal data is:
 - i. Pursuant to article9(2)(a) of the UK GDPR, where you have given us your explicit consent to do so; or
 - ii. Pursuant to article9(2)(f) of the UK GDPR, where it is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
- b. We will process the following information relating to special categories of personal data:
 - i. information relating to health;
 - ii. information relating to your religious beliefs, where provided by you in the context of PRA assessing your income and expenditure;
 - iii. information relating to trade union membership, where provided by you in the context of PRA assessing your income and expenditure; and
 - iv. information relating to your sexual orientation where provided by you in the context of PRA assessing your income and expenditure.
- c. If you do give us your explicit consent, we will cease processing your special category data if you then withdraw your explicit consent.

6. Data sources:

Personal data that we hold about you, where not collected from you directly, has been collected from the original creditor identified in the notice of assignment provided to you when PRA acquired your debt. Moreover we may process personal data collected from:

- a. any other third party from whom PRA acquired an outstanding debt,
- b. any third party authorised by you to communicate with us on your behalf,
- c. Credit Reference Agencies (“CRAs”),
- d. third party subcontractors duly authorised by one or more CRA, or

- e. any other third party if there is a legitimate interest or your consent..

We may process special category data that has been received from you, or a third party authorised by you to disclose such special categories of personal data.

7. Data recipients

a. For the abovementioned purpose(s) we can transfer your data to the following recipients: (i) to any of our related affiliates within the PRA Group of companies; (ii) to any agencies or other third parties that provide us with services, including companies used to send communications to you or that provide us with hosting services, technical support or assistance, debt collection agencies, law firms, insolvency practitioners, and tracing agents; (iii) to fraud prevention agencies and law enforcement agencies including where you give us false or inaccurate information or where we suspect or identify fraud including but not limited to the following: Cifas, National Crime Agency, Action Fraud, Police, Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs; (iv) to land registries, courts, governmental and nongovernmental regulators and ombudsmen; (v) to any third party that acquires, or is interested in acquiring or securitising, all or part of our assets or shares, or that succeeds us in carrying on all or a part of our business, whether by merger, acquisition, reorganisation or otherwise; (vi) to the original creditor of your debt or any party previously holding legal or beneficial title to your debt (for example to enable them to conduct audits on us); (vii) where we have your consent; or (viii) as required or permitted by law, including to comply with a legal summons or similar legal process or government request, to dispute resolution service providers, debt advice and debt management companies, or when we believe in good faith that disclosure is legally required or we have a legitimate interest in making a disclosure, such as where necessary to protect our rights and property.

b. In addition, where we are permitted, we may share your personal data with CRAs and the information may be recorded by the CRAs in your credit history record. We may also make periodic searches at CRAs. Where CRAs carry out a search for us they will place a search footprint on your credit file. CRAs may supply us with both public and shared credit and fraud prevention information. CRAs will record all outstanding debt and may disclose this information to other organisations to perform further checks, trace your whereabouts or recover the debt. If you pay your account in full then we will update the reports accordingly. Records remain on file with the CRAs for 6 years after they are closed whether settled by you or defaulted. You should be aware that the existence of a default, particularly defaults which are not marked as "settled" or "satisfied", may adversely affect your ability to obtain credit in the future. See below for further information on how your data may be used by CRAs. Please click on the following links and read the Credit Reference Agencies' Information Notice ("CRAIN") to see how Experian, Equifax and Call Credit process your personal data. c. Your personal data may be transferred to a recipient in a third country. A third country is a country located outside the United Kingdom, including the United States of America, which may not have data protection laws equivalent to those in the UK. In such case, (and provided we are not restricted from transferring your personal data in this way), we will take all necessary steps to ensure the safety and security of your personal data in accordance with applicable data protection laws. At present the European Union and the UK have similar data protection laws for individuals, and there are several other countries that the UK views as having adequate protection.

We may only transfer your personal data outside the UK if (i) the UK Government has confirmed that the country to which we transfer the personal data ensure an adequate level of protection for your rights and freedoms or (ii) appropriate safeguards are put in place such as binding corporate rules and standard contractual clauses approved for use in the UK.

8. Data Storage

Your personal data will be retained by us:

- for as long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes for which the data is processed, however, different periods for keeping your personal data will apply depending upon the type of data being retained and the purpose of its retention;
- for as long as is reasonably necessary to respond to any queries by you or any regulatory authority, including but not limited to the FCA;
- for as long as is reasonably necessary to comply with any legal, contractual and regulatory obligations which PRA may have, including those requirements imposed by Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs and other governmental, law enforcement and regulatory bodies.
- for as long as is reasonably necessary to protect, establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims, including to collect a debt, and to comply with a legal summons, court order, legal process or other legal requirement.

9. Your Rights

We also would like to inform you that, subject to further legal obligations, you have the following rights:

- Right to access your personal data - You have the right to ask for a copy of the personal data we hold about you..
- Right to rectification of your personal data - If you believe that any of the personal data we hold for you is incorrect, it is important that you make us aware as soon as possible, so that we can rectify our records.
- Right to erasure (right to be forgotten) - you have the right to request that we delete data relating to you.
- Right to restriction of processing - you have the right to request restriction of processing of your personal data.
- Right to data portability - You have the right to receive the personal data you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and the right to have that personal data transmitted to another data controller.
- Right to object to processing - You have the right to object to particular ways we are using your personal data. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes.
- Right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you - As noted above we may use the personal data we hold about you to conduct profiling and make decisions solely by automated means (for example, to predict how likely you are to be able to pay your debt, or how best to manage our relationship with you). However, we do not believe that this processing has either a legal effect or similarly significant impact on you.
- Right to withdraw consent - Where processing of your personal data is based on consent given to us for one or more specific purposes, you may withdraw your consent at any time providing it will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

If you wish to withdraw your consent, or for any other UK GDPR requests, please contact: privacy@pragroup.co.uk or tel: 08081 965541.

i. Right to complain - You have the right to complain if you consider that the processing of your personal data by us infringes your rights or applicable data protection laws. Contact details for complaints to us are as follows:

Head of Customer Services UK,
PRA Group (UK) Limited,
Halo Enterprise & Innovation Centre,
Hill Street,
Kilmarnock,
KA3 1HA
Email privacy@pragroup.co.uk

You also have the right to complain to a competent supervisory authority. If you believe that the processing of your personal data is unlawful, you have the right to make a complaint to the competent supervisory authority. The name and address of the relevant competent supervisory authority is: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF. You can also complain using their website at <https://ico.org.uk>.

In the event that you wish to exercise any of these rights you may do so (i) by contacting us using any medium you wish, including in writing, by telephone, by SMS or electronically or (ii) through a third party whom you have authorised for this purpose.

In some circumstances, we will not be able to agree to your request, for example if the right does not apply to the particular information that we process or if we have a legitimate reason for not doing so.
